Vision for the Leatherby Libraries
The vision of the Leatherby Libraries is to be a preeminent portal to the world’s knowledge, an intellectual and cultural center of campus, and a distinguished resource for teaching, learning, and scholarship at Chapman University.

Mission
The mission of the Leatherby Libraries is to provide personalized services and relevant collections in support of the curricular, creative, and scholarly needs of the Chapman University community to ensure the development of the information-literate global citizen.

Values
Chapman University is a learning community dedicated to the following core values that define the university's character and help guide the actions of its members:

• Value the dignity of every person by treating people with civility and respect;
• Act with integrity and accept personal responsibility for our actions;
• Live a life of services to others;
• Undertake the search for truth and meaning through critical thinking and the never-ending pursuit of knowledge and creative expression;
• Engage in and promote an atmosphere of open and honest communication with others;
• Seek a just and caring community that embraces a diversity of ideas and experiences.

The Leatherby Libraries plays an important role in the intellectual and cultural life of Chapman University. I am pleased to present this annual report to you, an opportunity to look back at the library’s growth and to highlight our accomplishments during the 2007/2008 year.

The library has begun a new strategic plan, “The Leatherby Libraries Path to National Stature,” with the goal of meeting the evolving information needs of the campus. In this past year, we have made advances in all service areas. Highlights can be found in this report, among them the ILLIAD end-user interlibrary loan system, an Information Literacy Program in collaboration with Freshman Foundations and CONTENTdm software to begin building an institutional repository of important and unique library resources. And thanks to the support of campus funding, the generosity of our donors, and the hard work of our librarians and staff, the total collection size topped 300,000 this year, a milestone toward our goal of a “core collection” in support of the teaching and research missions at Chapman University.

I am also pleased to introduce to you our new Leatherby Libraries icon that you can see at the bottom of this page and on our website. The nine leaves of this open book represent our nine libraries, and the rainbow of colors suggests the wide variety of resources and ideas that the Leatherby Libraries offers.

We take pride in the progress that the Leatherby Libraries have made today and the progress which we will make tomorrow. Our vision is to be the preeminent portal to the world’s knowledge and to provide personalized services to support the curricular, creative and scholarly needs of the Chapman community. This vision is realized through the commitment of the Leatherby Libraries’ librarians and staff, the support of the university, and through the generosity of donors.

In the report that follows, you will find highlights of the major gifts given to the library over the course of the year, some of the resources and services that we have added, a chance to meet some of our staff, and the presentation of the library’s statistics over the previous year.

Enjoy!

Sincerely,

Charlene Baldwin
Dean, Leatherby Libraries
Unquestionably, Gutenberg was one of the greatest figures in the history of mankind; his invention became the almost exclusive basis for the subsequent transmission of learning and literature.

“I cannot live without books.” Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States, made this passionate statement in 1815 following the donation of his personal library to found the Library of Congress.

Many individuals, foundations, estates and associations have provided vital sponsorship of the Leatherby Libraries and its mission. We are pleased to list their names here in appreciation of their generosity.

Gifts-in-kind are donations of books and other items that materially enhance the library’s collection. The Leatherby Libraries was fortunate to receive a variety of gifts-in-kind from many generous benefactors. Here is a partial listing and display of those received during the 2007/2008 fiscal year.

- The Nadine and Harmon Wilkinson Lincoln Collection of more than 400 books on Abraham Lincoln and the American Civil War. Gift of the Estate of Nadine and Harmon Wilkinson.
- 1,536 books on Germanic studies from the personal library of Carl W. Hagge.
- 8 paintings of 19th century steam trains and colorful airplanes by Fred Bonn. On permanent loan from Dr. Richard Pitts ’70.
- 216 turtle artifacts and paintings, as well as 820 books on herpetology and the Galapagos Islands, from Casa de Tortuga. Gift of the Walter B. Allen Family Trust.
- 122 books on mountaineering, several of which can be seen on display in the Doti-Struppa Mountaineering Alcove. Gift of Daniele Struppa.
- 496 books, many on Jewish studies, from the private library of Drs. Moses and Susanne Spira.
- 14,000-volume personal library of filmmaker Francine Parker. Gift of Francine Parker and Amanda, Ian and Troy Parker.
- 2,250 books on comparative religion from the personal library of Charmaine J. Gross.
- Chapman and Wickett family memorabilia featuring the wedding dress of Lizzie Chapman, wife of Charles C. Chapman, c. 1890s, as well as her journal. Gift of Geo Wickett.
- Sala and Aron Samuei Holocaust Memorial Library
Vintage mountaineering equipment signed by Sir Edmund Hillary and other notable climbers, along with 17 books on mountaineering, some of which can be seen on display in the Doti-Struppa Mountaineering Alcove. Gift of James L. Dotti.

A framed map, “Terra Sancta” (c. 1584-1612), by famed publisher, Abraham Ortelius. Gift of Ludie and David C. Henley.

40 additional antique toys and 129 books from the private collection of Ralph L. Tomlinson, expanding an earlier gift.

Library Highlights 2007/2008

Public Services Division

Leatherby Libraries Information Literacy Program
In cooperation with Freshman Foundations, this program was launched in the fall of 2007 with more than 30 faculty members participating and reaching more than 900 students. This program also included a pilot of SAILS (Standardized Assessment of Information Literacy Skills).

Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Prize
The Leatherby Libraries Undergraduate Research Prize was established in spring 2008 to recognize excellent research and use of library resources by Chapman University undergraduate students. Submissions were received from different academic departments, including history, psychology and film production. Each applicant submitted an essay on the research process and use of library resources along with a copy of the research paper and a faculty letter of support.

The Library honored four students at an awards ceremony in May 2008

- First Place: Sarah Kuiken, senior history major. Supporting faculty: Lee Estes. Paper title: “Breeches and the Softer Sex: Gender and Seafaring in 18th and 19th Century Britain.”

- Third Place: Lauren Mandel, junior psychology major. Supporting faculty: John Flowers. Paper title: “Harry Benjamin and Transsexualism.”

Community of Readers
The Community of Readers, a summer reading program for faculty and staff, completed a second successful year. The program was created to celebrate reading and build community across campus. Members select their own books to read from the Leatherby Libraries collection and write brief reviews. During the summer of 2008 participants submitted a total of 91 book reviews.

Interlibrary Loan Department
The ILLIAD Interlibrary Loan system was implemented and introduced to the Chapman community. This online software allows users to request materials faster and easier than the previous system. New brochures, a PowerPoint presentation, and website changes were all created to help the transition of users to the online system. The lending policy has been modified to allow graduate students to submit 40 free ILLIAD requests per semester.

Circulation Services
The library extended its regular operating hours again this year for a total of 4,359 hours.

An extensive inventory project was put into motion to identify misplaced and miscataloged items throughout the library to make it easier for users to locate materials.

Compliant with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the Circulation Department and the library reaffirmed commitment to the privacy of the library experience for all patrons.
This library completed another stellar year with an increasingly well-attended lecture series, a Southern California-wide art and writing contest, continued interaction of Holocaust Survivors with students and other special events.

Marilyn Harran, holder of the Stern Chair in Holocaust Education and director of the Rogers Center for Holocaust Education, received the “Women of Vision” award from We Give Thanks, Inc. and the “Spirit of Anne Frank” award from the Anne Frank Foundation.
Meet the Librarians

The Leatherby Libraries’ librarians and staff now number 38 and total Full Time Equivalent (FTE) employees of 33. We are pleased to list them here and feature four staff members and three librarians who epitomize commitment to service.

Doug Dechow
Instruction Librarian

Doug earned his Ph.D. in computer science from Oregon State University, an M.L.I.S. from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign and a B.S. in physics from Knox College in Illinois. In his role as instruction librarian, Doug provides library instruction for Freshman Foundations and the ongoing Leatherby Libraries Information Literacy Program.

Cheryl Highsmith
Electronic Resources Librarian

Cheryl is the coordinator of electronic resources and serials and has worked at Chapman University since December 2006. Her responsibilities include acquiring new electronic resources, managing current licenses and approval of renewals for e-resource subscriptions, and providing general supervision to the Serials Department. She has extensive experience in academic library services, including supervision of interlibrary loan/document delivery services; collection development in the sciences, the social sciences, education and the humanities; providing library user instruction and conducting workshops on databases and the internet, and providing general reference assistance. Cheryl has also worked in higher education in the field of comprehensive school reform providing professional development to teachers in the field.

Julie Artman
Chair, Public Services Division

Besides serving as Chair, Julie provides library instruction and reference services to Chapman students. Her degrees include a B.A. in theatre from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas; M.F.A. in drama from the University of Montana, Missoula; and a M.L.I.S. from San Jose State University. Julie is associate editor for The Fight Master, the journal of the Society of American Fight Directors for stage, film, and television; and she is a book reviewer for CHOICE. Previously, Julie taught theatre at Sweet Briar College and the University of Montana and has worked extensively in the film industry in New York City and Los Angeles.

Julie’s subject liaison areas for the Library are Dance, Film/Media Arts and Theatre where she has also taught.
Andrew Valbuena
Head of Serials

Andrew manages the Serials Department, which includes periodicals, newspapers, annual reviews, yearbooks, and many society series in print as well as electronic formats. The Serials Department is responsible for all functions related to obtaining and making serials available in the Library and to the Chapman community at large. Print materials from the Serials Department are intended for library use only while e-journals are available to all current Chapman students, faculty and staff. These e-resources can be accessed locally or remotely.

Some of the major functions of the Serials Department includes checking in and processing new serials as they arrive, processing print and electronic journal subscriptions, budgeting and invoicing, ordering and claiming journal titles, maintaining holdings records in the catalog, mending and preservation of damaged and older titles, sending titles out for binding, and processing student theses so they can be bound and shelved.

Eddie Saucedo
Head of Circulation

Eddie manages the operations of the Circulation Department. The department’s primary responsibilities include opening/closing the building, maintaining the library collections and managing patron library accounts. The Circulation Department also assists patrons with circulation transactions, including library accounts, information updates, checking out and in items, placing holds on items, collecting fines or fees, locating items and accessing media rooms.

They also manage the library reserves collection, including the creation of course records, attaching items to the courses and scanning documents for electronic reserve. “Stack maintenance” is a major component of the Circulation Department’s operation: maintaining the library collections by gathering all in-house used items, re-shelving items, shelf-reading and shifting, as well as serving as key operators for the library photocopiers, microfilm/fiche printers and laser printers.

Theresa Paulsrud
Head of Acquisitions

The Acquisitions Department is responsible for the purchase of books and media for the Leatherby Libraries. Order requests are accepted from faculty, librarians, staff, administration and students. In the past, order requests were typically received via publisher’s flyers, handwritten notes and phone calls. However technology—as with everything—has changed how the department functions. Orders are now often complex and far-reaching in the scope of material requested, its origin and availability.

As the Head of Acquisitions, Theresa also compiles reports and oversees the library budgets for all educational materials, endowments and gifts.

Theresa began working at Chapman University more than 28 years ago and has witnessed its growth in many phenomenal ways. Now when asked “where do you work?” she finds it is wonderful to hear people say “wow” instead of “where?”

Gina Wilkinson
Head of Interlibrary Loan

Gina is responsible for the day-to-day operations of lending and borrowing library materials for our faculty, students and staff at the Orange campus as well as the University College community.

The Interlibrary Loan Department has evolved a great deal since 1992, when Gina was hired. At that time, service was only available for faculty and graduate students. Work that was originally submitted on handwritten paper request forms is now performed using the new online ILLIAD electronic request/delivery system. The Interlibrary Loan Department will continue to change with the advent of new technology in an effort to make the research process a positive and efficient experience for our patrons.

Giving Opportunities in the Leatherby Libraries

Naming Opportunities – Gifts to the building provide opportunities to permanently recognize and honor the donor or an honoree of the donor’s choosing. To discuss a gift to the building, please contact University Advancement.

Endowments – Setting up an endowment ensures that the donor’s gift will continue to benefit the library into the future. Working with a Chapman development director, donors can designate endowment amounts and how gifts are to be used in the library. To discuss a possible pledge, please contact University Advancement.

Pledge – Making a pledge enables the donor to distribute a gift commitment over a defined period of years. Working with a Chapman development director, donors can designate pledge amounts, time periods and how gifts are to be used in the library. To discuss a possible pledge, please contact University Advancement.

Securities – By giving stocks and bonds to the library, a donor may receive tax benefits. To discuss a gift of securities to the library, please contact University Advancement.

Property – Gifts of property that comply with the university’s real estate policy are also welcome. Please contact University Advancement.

Cash Gifts – The simplest way to make a one-time cash gift is by check made payable to Chapman University and specify Leatherby Libraries as the recipient. Mail to: Chapman University, Gift Recorder, One University Drive, Orange, CA 92866.

Gifts-In-Kind – Gifts of books, art, historical documents and other items are considered gifts-in-kind. Call the library at (714) 532-7742 or the University Advancement office for assistance in making a gift to the library.

“Honor with Books” Bookplate program – The purchase of a personalized bookplate recognizes and honors the donor or an honoree of the donor’s choosing. To become involved in the bookplate program, please contact the Leatherby Libraries at (714) 532-7742.
