Non-Degree Seeking status does NOT mean formal admission to Chapman University. Students who wish to obtain a degree must apply for and obtain official admission status (See current University College Catalog) and will be required to meet the degree requirements published in the catalog current at the time of their formal admission and subsequent enrollment. There is NO guarantee that the courses taken previously while in a non-degree seeking status will meet the degree requirements of later catalogs. NOTE: A non-degree seeking student is ineligible to receive most types of financial aid.

The statements that I have made are accurate, and I have read the policy above.
